"Tug of Love" is about a yellow Labrador that had two owners. Both Mr. Scott and Mrs. Weston claim ownership of the dog. Neil Parker whose family owned King Street Kennel solved the dispute with a very happy ending.

My favorite character in "Tug of Love" is Neil Parker. He was very dedicated in finding who really owned Jason, the yellow Labrador. He came up with a solution that made everyone happy in the disputed ownership of Jason.

I will recommend this book to all my friends because it shows the bond between man and animals. A dog is a man's best friend

This book was about MB and MG, two heroes assisting the president of the U.S. They help solve the problem of holes appearing in suits of everyone in Washington.

My favorite part of the book was when MB asked Fart Miester about his name.

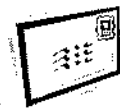

I would recommend the book because there are lots of action parts and crime solving.

A Charlie Brown Christmas

By: Charles M. Schulz
Reviewed By: Nefertari Francis
3-209

This story is about Charlie Brown who had a bad Christmas, But his friends still cared about him. He was mad because nobody sent him mail cards.

My favorite part of the book is when his friends surprised him with a bigger tree than the one that he had.

I would recommend this book because it teaches me to be caring and kind to people when they are blue, sad and angry.

Happy New Year to all our readers

This book is about a family who owns a kennel. A man named Mr. Scott claims that he is Jason's owner. When Scott went to the kennel, he told the family what happened. They tried to solve the case, and they did. Jason's real owner is Mrs. Weston.

My favorite character is Sam the puppy. He is loyal, cuddly and follows instructions if his owner tells him to do something.

I would like to recommend this book to my sister because she loves dogs.

How do three girls with very little in common become friends?

One girl lived her life confined to a wheelchair. She had no friends, except her dog. The second girl was a regular average person and the third girl was very popular in school. She had lots of friends. All three girls went to the same school and were in the same grade but not the same class.

Read the book Bluish and find out the answer!!!

My favorite part of the book is when the three girls eventually develop a solid friendship. The quality of their friendship is so incredible that it makes you want to cry. It makes you understand the true value of friendship.

I would recommend this book for all people who are struggling to make friends and have low self-esteem. Although I enjoyed reading it, I did find some part of the book slow reading. I give this book 3    blues out of 5.
